

PALM BEACH

Spending as a Fine Art
Descriptive Summary

A 282 foot Scenic picture.

To enjoy great wealth properly: first get it, then go to Florida for the winter. This state, with its wonderful hotels and magnificent beaches, is the winter Mecca of thousands of wealthy classes. While the rest of us are worrying with the furnace these folks are getting sunburned.

There the floating palaces of the modern Methuselas dot the rippling waters. We peep onto their decks and into their cabins and catch an intimate glimpse of those whose names adorn the Blue Book. We see them at the hotels, promenading the beaches, bathing and riding, or attempting to ride, the frolicsome surf toboggan. Plump babies worth millions of dollars a pound in the wake of the retreating wave. Aeroplanes are as common as sparrows. An aeroplane-taxi costs only a dollar a minute. It was pretty steep, but the camera man hired one for three minutes and took one of the most remarkable panoramas ever taken from the sky to use in this picture.

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

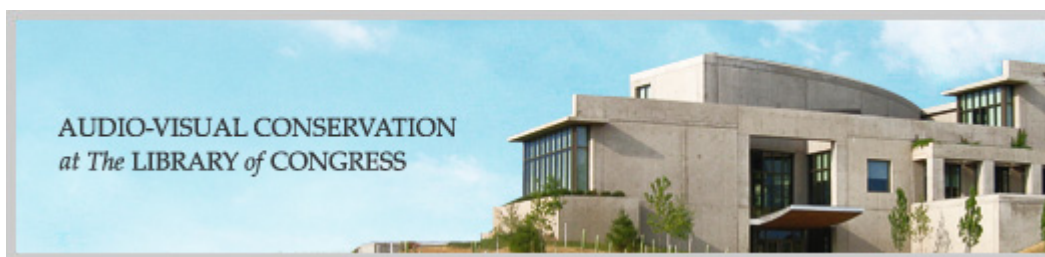

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress